Nexora Industries is a fictional company. This synthetic document was created for a portfolio demonstration and does not describe a real organisation.

1. Scope

This policy applies to all Nexora employees, and in particular to those who take part in procurement, quality and engineering decisions.

2. Gifts from suppliers

- Employees may accept unsolicited gifts of nominal value, up to €50 per supplier per calendar year, such as promotional items or a box of chocolates.
- Cash and cash equivalents (gift cards, vouchers, loans) are never accepted, whatever the amount.
- A gift above €50 must be politely declined. If refusing it would cause offence, it is handed over to the Compliance team.

3. Hospitality

- Business meals with a supplier are allowed up to €100 per person, with a maximum of 2 invitations from the same supplier per calendar year.
- Invitations to events such as sports matches or concerts require the prior written approval of the line manager and of Compliance.
- Travel and accommodation for supplier visits, audits and trade fairs are always paid by Nexora, never by a supplier.

4. Tender quiet period

From the launch of a tender until the award is communicated, employees involved in the tender must not accept any gift or hospitality, of any value, from the suppliers taking part in it.

5. Gift register

Any gift or hospitality that exceeds the limits of sections 2 and 3, whether it was accepted with approval, handed over or refused, must be declared in the gift register within 5 business days.

6. Conflicts of interest

- Employees declare their conflicts of interest every year and whenever a new situation arises, for example a family member working for a supplier, a financial interest in a supplier or a secondary activity.
- An employee with a declared conflict of interest must not take part in any decision about the supplier concerned.
- Category Managers of categories classified as high risk by the CPO change category at least every 5 years.

7. Breaches

Breaches of this policy may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal. Questions can be sent to the Compliance team or raised through the SpeakUp line.
